How do I fix a SteamVR base station error?

Turn the base station off and on again. Make sure that you've installed your base stations correctly. For details, see Installing SteamVR Base Station 2.0. Restart the SteamVR app. If you still get an error, reboot your computer and reopen the SteamVR app. For more information, you may refer to the SteamVR Troubleshooting page.

How do you identify a ve base station?

Vive versions are identified by having a sync 3.5 mm port in the back and glass going to the sides of the device. Vive versions are not being released anymore, as Valve is responsible for producing all the base stations themselves and then selling them to partners. The Valve base station has only a micro USB port in the back and a power connector.

Are ve base stations still available?

Vive versions are not being released anymore, as Valve is responsible for producing all the base stations themselves and then selling them to partners. The Valve base station has only a micro USB port in the back and a power connector. Disconnect your base station from the power.

How do I know if a base station is not tracking?

You check SteamVR and see that one of the base stations is not tracking. You peek at a base station and see a blinking red light. OH NO! If you still have the base station under warranty, no need to panic, this can happen, you just contact Valve/HTC support (depending where you bought it from) and they will offer you a replacement.
