Are mobile base station sites EME compliant?

The Radio Communications Licence Conditions (Apparatus Licence) Determination 2015 mandates that the operation of equipment does not exceed the general public exposure limit. All mobile base station sites are required to be approved for EME compliance. This process ensures the safety of the General Public.

Why did two base stations in Lam Tsuen have to be removed?

It was reported that two base stations in Lam Tsuen, Tai Po had to be removed at the end of last year due to objections raised by residents in the neighbourhood, resulting in the mobile communications services in the vicinity being paralysed.

How many base stations are there in a mobile network?

(2) Mobile network operators (MNOs) will, from time to time, adjust their radio base station (base station) settings having regard to their own network planning and actual needs. In the past three years, MNOs installed 5 900, 7 000 and 4 800 new base stations and removed 340, 2 200 and 150 base stations respectively.

Do MNOs need to remove their base stations?

However, quite a number of members of the public are concerned that the radiation emitted from the base stations affects human health and demand MNOs to remove their base stations. As MNOs have difficulty in identifying suitable locations to install base stations, the coverage of their networks and the services provided by them have been affected.
