What is the difference between monocrystalline and polycrystalline solar panels?

Monocrystalline solar panels cost 0.90-1.20 per watt, offering 18-22% efficiency due to pure silicon, while polycrystalline panels are cheaper at 0.70-1.00 per watt but less efficient (15-17%). Monocrystalline lasts 25-30 years with 0.3-0.5% annual degradation, whereas polycrystalline degrades 0.5-0.8% yearly.

How much power does a monocrystalline solar panel have?

The best monocrystalline solar panels have power ratings upwards of 500W, with some exceeding 600W and even 700W. In contrast, you'll struggle to find a polycrystalline panel with a power rating above 400W, and they've long fallen around 20% below monocrystalline models, according to data analysts Wood Mackenzie.

What are top monocrystalline solar panels?

The top monocrystalline panels use TOPCon, HJT, or back contact technology. Manufacturers use these various chemical and technological processes to gain advantages over traditional models. When you go solar, your system will almost certainly use monocrystalline solar panels.
